Release of Information (ROI) - Associate Position.

Job Summary:

ROI Associate (Release of Information) is the (Hospital's) designated contact for requests for release of patient health information (including the patient's legal medical record and fetal monitor strips). This position is responsible for accepting all requests for patient health information (such as patient access, third party requests, physicians or medical facilities for continuity of care, subpoenas, warrants, & mortuaries), and responding to each within the mandated timeframes. Maintain knowledge of the Federal HIPAA regulations, state Consent and Release of Information Laws, and (Hospital's) Policies and Procedures. Assures all release of information activities are in compliance with each of these regulatory guidelines. Additionally, completes all job duties following HIPAA's guideline for release of the minimum protected health information necessary to those who have the right and on a need to know basis. Processes and keeps accurate records of all release of information transactions, for ease of retrieval in response to requests for performance tracking and monitoring.

Job Description:

- Maintain confidentiality, protecting patient information at all times: minimum information necessary to those with right and on a need to know basis.
- Observes all laws, regulations, and policies related to release of information.

- Assess each request to determine its appropriateness and that it is a valid authorization.
- Accurately reviews each request to determine the encounters and specific documents needed in response to the request for information.
- Ensure accurate pull of all encounters and documents requested, in a timely manner. Orders records from storage as needed.
- Researches the records thoroughly, accurately identifying and obtaining the necessary documents to be released. Verify each document being released belongs to the correct patient and encounter for which the request is deemed valid and appropriate for release.
- Within required timeframes as per type of request, releases information or sends appropriate response in event of inability to respond to request.
- Release to the appropriate individual / entity as authorized: whether by fax and oremail.
- Consistently logs all release of information transactions/responses performed in a timely manner, maintaining this data for accurate accounting of disclosures upon request.
- Effective communication: writes and speaks clearly and concisely, affecting positive and efficient assistance to all requestors.
- Completes job duties in accordance with productivity requirements and quality standards.
